

Welcome to the November Safeguarding Newsletter

I would like to start this month by wishing our Training Safeguarding Administrator Lynne Youngs many thanks and all the best for everything she has done for the District in terms of training over the last couple of years as she has now left the District team. For me personally Lynne has been someone I have had constant support from with training, and I can't underplay too much what an asset she has been, and for that I thank her massively. Interviews for her replacement have been completed, and I look forward to working with and introducing to someone new in the coming weeks.

Training continues apace however with 4 courses being delivered in the next 2 weeks. If you are due to complete training in 2024 I would encourage you to plan ahead, and identify a course that is either relatively near you for face to face, booked early for our online versions which sell out quickly.

Dates for both Foundation and Advanced Module are being added to the website all the time, so book from there. If you are a trainer planning a training session until a new Training Administrator is appointed please contact me so the course can be added to the calendar and website.

With best wishes,

Neil

Dates for your Diaries

Safeguarding Sunday – Sunday 19th November

Please can we put Safeguarding on the agenda that day. My colleague Pauline Jackson from Beds, Essex and Herts has written a blog detailing the importance of marking this day, and there are links to many useful resources.
