

Doctor of Ministry (DMin)

The Doctor of Ministry (DMin) is a postgraduate degree in theology for those in ministry. It is widely recognised internationally as a preparation for senior church leadership. The course is offered by Wesley Theological Seminary, Washington and hosted by Wesley House, Cambridge, UK.

The degree consists of four intensive two-week sessions, plus self-study modules which allow students to work from home. The residential sessions will be held at Wesley House in Cambridge during January 2018, June 2018, January 2019 and June 2019.

- ◆ Study in a global and ecumenical group
- ◆ Enjoy getting to know the historic university city of Cambridge
- ◆ Weekends are free to explore the UK and further abroad (London is 1 hour away from Cambridge by train)

For further information email
admissions@wesleyseminary.edu

Course tutors

- ◆ Dr Jane Leach, Principal, Wesley House, Cambridge
- ◆ Prof Michael McCurry, Distinguished Professor of Public Theology, WTS
- ◆ Dr Marcia McFee, Worship Design Studio, Oregon
- ◆ Dr Doug Powe, Professor of Evangelism and Professor of Urban Ministry, WTS
- ◆ Dr Calvin Samuel, Principal, London School of Theology
- ◆ Prof Deborah Sokolove, Director, Henry Luce III Center for the Arts and Religion; Professor of Art and Worship, WTS
- ◆ Pádraig Ó Tuama, poet, theologian and leader of the Corrymeela Community
- ◆ Prof Frances Young, Emerita Edward Cadbury Professor of Theology, University of Birmingham